Letter From The Rector

Sabbatical Time

My sabbatical begins on May 25, 2020. Supply clergy have been assigned to meet your pastoral needs during my absence. Please contact the Parish Office if you have a pastoral need or in the event of a pastoral emergency. I will be away from you but you will always be in my prayers. I am confident that you will continue to do everything you have always done with unfailing devotion.

My sabbatical plans have shifted with the emergence of COVID-19. Some of the things I had planned to do are now in limbo. My travel plans will depend on travel restrictions and other governmental regulations.

I have begun to study Spanish and will continue to do so throughout my sabbatical. My guitar has been neglected for too many years and so I will also spend my sabbatical becoming reacquainted with this musical instrument. I enjoy reading fiction but find that there is little time to do so given the demands of parish life. In this unhurried space, I will spend some time reading a few of the classics as well as one or two of the new works of fiction now available.

I have a few book manuscripts that have been sitting in the digital world in various stages of development. I will decide which manuscript has the best chance of reaching completion and will then focus my efforts on that project, one page at a time. I enjoy writing poetry and intend to invite my muse to inspire a few verses or more. My last book of poetry was published in 2006. Perhaps there is one more collection buried deep within me waiting for some outward expression.

I plan to exercise and rest and explore ways to care for my mind and body and soul that may be new to me. I remain constantly aware that a healthy leader promotes health in body of Christ.

More than anything, I want to be intentional about my reflections on the past five years. Much has happened to us and for us since my arrival. I want to take this time to celebrate what we have accomplished and to envision the road ahead. I expect that God will say much to me and to you during our time apart.

Finally, be kind to each other. Speak gently and with careful thought knowing that your words have the power to bless your sister or brother with the love of God. Until I see you again, be safe and continue to take good care.

Grace and Peace,

Fr. Ramsey+

Chicago has seen a total of 98 deaths with 72% of them black residents.

*<https://www.bbc.com/news/world-us-canada-52194018>, April 7, 2020

Coronavirus Wreaks Havoc in African American Neighborhoods*

Stark statistics from Chicago health officials have underscored the heavy toll of coronavirus on Black Americans. Black Chicagoans account for half of all coronavirus cases in the city and more than 70% of deaths, despite making up 30% of the population. Other cities with large black populations, including Detroit, Milwaukee, New Orleans and New York, have become coronavirus hotspots.

What do Chicago's statistics show?

As of 5 April, 1,824 out of Chicago's 4,680 confirmed Covid-19 cases were black residents. The disparity is reflected across the state, where black people account for 41% of Covid-19 deaths, despite making up 14% of the population of Illinois.

Chicago public health commissioner Dr. Allison Arwady told reporters that black city residents already lived on average about 8.8 years less than their white counterparts. Mayor Lori Lightfoot said the coronavirus was "devastating for Black Chicago." She said city inspectors would be sent into shops to ensure everyone was adhering to social distancing guidelines. Mayor Lightfoot also raised the possibility of curfews in areas where people gathered outside liquor stores, reports the Chicago Sun-Times.

What's the picture nationally?

Through the coronavirus has been called the "great equalizer," data suggests that vulnerability to the infection may vary by neighborhoods.

- In Michigan, African Americans make up 14% of the population, but they account for 33% of the coronavirus cases and 41% of deaths.
- White residents account for about 23% of recorded cases in Michigan and 28% of deaths.
- Detroit, Michigan, is about 80% of confirmed coronavirus cases.

- A similar disparity has emerged in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, one of the most segregated cities in the U.S.
- African Americans made up almost half of Milwaukee County’s nearly 1,000 cases as of last Friday and 81% of its 27 deaths, despite black people accounting for 26% of the population there, according to a study by ProPublica.

In hard-hit Louisiana, more than 70% of the people who have died of Covid-19 are black, despite African Americans making up 32% of the Gulf state’s population. Some 40% of Louisiana’s coronavirus deaths have occurred in the New Orleans area, where the majority of residents are black.

Health officials have previously said the Big Easy’s residents suffer from rates of obesity, diabetes and hypertension that are higher than the national average, making them more vulnerable to Covid-19.

What’s behind the disparity in Chicago?

Mayor Lightfoot said diabetes, heart disease and respiratory illness were “really prevalent” in Black communities. Dr. Arwady told reporters that even if everyone in the city had access to a doctor, “we would still see significant health disparities because of food deserts and lack of walkable streets.”

Dr. Cameron Webb, an African-American physician who is running for Congress in the state of Virginia, told BBC News that United States racial and economic disparities were being amplified by the pandemic. “It really exposes our society’s fault lines,” he said.

Alderman Jason Ervin, who chairs Chicago council’s Black caucus, told the Chicago Tribune that “rates of non-compliance in some parts of the city with the stay-at-home orders” might also be contributing to the statistics.

VIRTUAL CHURCH The Season of COVID-19

All over the Diocese of Southern Virginia, clergy have had to configure worship experiences for their parishioners. Clergy have offered parishioners the opportunity to see and hear recorded sessions through Facebook, Zoom and YouTube.

We, here at St. Cyprian's, are using YouTube Live to gather for Sunday worship at 10 a.m. Our worship service is conducted by the Rector, The Very Rev. Dr. Ronald E. Ramsey, with music provided by our Director of Music Ministries, Phyllis Holland-James. This Virtual Ministry also includes members from our Liturgical Ministry - Eucharistic Minister, Acolyte and Altar Guild. Mark Farquharson faithfully serves as our Webmaster and Audio-Visual Technician each Sunday.

Our parishioners are connected in this virtual ministry each Sunday as they worship at home. Although we are not able to hear the congregation responding during the course of the service, we are bound together in the Body of Christ. We may not be in physical contact with each other; but, we are in spiritual connection with each other through our Creator and our Redeemer.

Stay strong! Stay connected! We encourage St. Cyprian's family and friends to join us each Sunday at 10 a.m. on YouTube Live by clicking the link below.

CHILDREN'S WORSHIP

A MESSAGE TO OUR SUNDAY SCHOOL STUDENTS AND PARENTS..

I want to start this message by expressing how much I MISS SEEING EACH OF YOU!!!

The current health crisis has certainly made me much more appreciative of the Christian fellowship, love, (and just plain fun) that we shared with one another in Sunday School.

Although we are physically unable to interact with each other, I want you to know that I am keeping all of you in my heart, thoughts and prayers. I am eagerly looking forward to the time when we can resume our regular classes with fresh and meaningful activities.

Please stay safe and follow the guidelines of our church leaders and health officials.

Yours in Christ,

Juanita Alexander
